The ratings of the following notes address the ultimate payment of interest and principal on or before the legal final maturity date: RH X Series B and Series C notes, RH XIV Series B notes, RH XV Series B notes and RH XVI Series B Notes.

Today's rating actions follow an annual review of the transactions and are based on the following analytical considerations:

- Portfolio performance in terms of delinquencies, defaults and losses.
- Portfolio default (PD) rate, loss given default (LGD) and expected loss assumptions for the remaining collateral pools.
- The credit enhancement (CE) available to the rated notes to cover the expected losses at their respective ratings.

All seven transactions are securitisations of first-ranking residential mortgage loans originated and serviced by Spanish rural savings banks. The transactions follow the standard structure under the Spanish securitisation law.

PORTFOLIO PERFORMANCE

The portfolios of all seven transactions are performing within DBRS's expectations. For RH X, the 90+ ratio decreased to 1.32% as at April 2017 from 1.48% 12 months prior and the cumulative default ratio increased to 3.48% from 3.31%. For RH XI, the 90+ ratio decreased to 1.05% as at March 2017 from 1.35% and the cumulative default ratio increased to 3.32% from 3.15%. CREDIT ENHANCEMENT

The CE available to all rated notes has continued to increase as the transactions continue to deleverage. The sources of CE are the subordinated notes. The CE available to each of the rated notes was 18.32%, 13.18% and 5.86% for the RH X Series A, B and C notes, respectively, as at the February 2017 payment date; 17.03% for the RH XI Series A notes as at the March 2017 payment date; 18.39% for the RH XII Series A notes as at the March 2017 payment date; 21.56% and 7.25% for the RH XIV Series A and B notes, respectively, as at the February 2017 payment date; 19.95% and 6.72% for the RH XV Series A and B notes, respectively, as at the February 2017 payment date; 22.82% and 7.12% for the RH XVI Series A and B Notes, respectively, as at the April 2017 payment date; and 33.42% for the RH XVII Bonds as at the April 2017 payment date. The increase in the CE prompted today's confirmations and upgrades.

Citibank Europe plc, Spanish Branch acts as the Account Bank for all the transactions. Citibank Europe plc, Spanish Branch's DBRS private rating meets the Minimum Institution Rating criteria given the current ratings assigned to the senior notes in each transaction, as described in DBRS's "Legal Criteria for European Structured Finance Transactions" methodology.

Banco Cooperativo Español S.A. (rated BBB with a Stable trend by DBRS) acts as the basis swap provider for RH X, RH XI and RH XII. The DBRS rating of Banco Cooperativo Español S.A. does not meet the first rating threshold given the current ratings assigned to the senior notes of Rural X and Rural XII, as described in DBRS's "Derivative Criteria for European Structured Finance Transactions" methodology. As a result, DBRS has assumed that the basis risk in these transactions is unhedged for the purpose of the cash flow analysis. DBRS has modelled the interest rate basis risk associated with the mismatch between the interest rates on the assets (the majority of the loans pay interest linked to 12 months Euribor) and the interest rate paid on the notes (linked to three months Euribor) using its "Unified Interest Rate Model for European Securitisations" methodology.

Notes:

All figures are in euros unless otherwise noted.

The principal methodology applicable to the ratings is: "Master European Structured Finance Surveillance Methodology."

DBRS has applied the principal methodology consistently and conducted a review of the transaction in accordance with the principal methodology.
